Council To Discuss Local Committee For Defense

Sierra Madre will be represented by Councilman Tom Schwartz at the meeting of the Los Angeles County Council for Defense which will be held Friday in Los Angeles for the purpose of forming an executive committee.

Preliminary work for the establishment of a Sierra Madre committee will be among matters discussed in committee meeting by the City Council this evening.

Help For British As Winter Nears Aim Of Local Committee

With the approach of winter in Britain, the British War Relief chapter here is redoubling efforts to complete a consignment of warm clothing so that it will arrive in time to prevent actual suffering among people who have been bombed from their homes.

Mrs. J. Andrew Hall has sent out a call for women to sew on coats which are to be relined and mended, and for others to work on lighter garments. During the summer, women of the chapter have continued to work at the Women's clubhouse, and in July shipped a consignment of 500 garments. In August the number decreased slightly, but the coming of winter will see heavier shipments going out.

Monday evening Mrs. Hall, Miss Lalla Fagge and Mrs. Lilly Jones joined representatives from chapters throughout Southern California at the Ambassador Hotel, for a meeting conducted by Basil Rathbone, Southern California chairman.

Democratic Women Will Meet Tonight

Many Sierra Madre Democratic women are planning to attend a meeting of the Democratic Women's division of the 47th and 48th assembly districts at the home of Mrs. Louise T. Beckwith, 260 Palmetto drive, Pasadena, at 7:30 this evening. The panel discussion will include defense, war, and labor problems. Harold Carraw, Sierra Madre resident and literary editor of the Pasadena Star News will be among the panel members.

Sierra Madre women named to 48th district activities are Virginia Timberlake, for the Democratic Digest, and Miss Barbara Kedie, chairwoman of the reporter plan.

Craft Exhibition At Recreation Center Interests Parents

Of interest to many Sierra Madreans will be the craft exhibition which is to be held at the Kiwanis Recreation Center at 97 East Montecito avenue on September 11, 12 and 13, between 12 noon and 9 p.m. daily.

Local children working under the supervision of Mrs. G. Mullens, Mrs. E. T. Armstrong and A. G. Stephens have made scores of articles which will be on display. These include copper and wood work, beads, weaving, painted gourds, baskets, jewelry, hats and handbags. Prizes will be awarded for the outstanding articles in the exhibit.

Craft classes will continue through the year for children and adults who are reminded that Christmas is not far away and that many attractive gifts may be made at the Center.

Women Have Interesting Year Ahead

Noted College Professors Booked For Talks On Great World Crisis

Programs and plans for the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, as outlined by Mrs. Waverly E. Pratt, club president, promise to make the coming year outstandingly interesting and full of educational, cultural and social opportunities. The highlight of the year's program is again a course of lectures by prominent college professors.

Telling of the lecture program, Mrs. Pratt said: "Few tasks are more important in these crucial times than the creation of an intelligent, informed citizenry. It is imperative that American people have a keener understanding of the world situation today. In thinking of the many possible subjects for our course of lectures this year, it seemed to me we should be most vitally interested in the welfare, preservation and advancement of democracy. So for the lectures, I have chosen as the general subject, 'Developing Democracy's Destiny.' Each lecture will be on a different phase of the main topic. There will be six lectures in the series, and they will be given at our regular club.

Sierra Madreans To Show Miniatures At County Fair

Opening of the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona Friday, September 12, will again find Sierra Madre miniaturists taking part in the art exhibit, which is always an important part of the event.

Miss Ella S. Bush and Miss Daphne Alley have submitted miniatures and Miss Alley has been named a member of the jury, with Myrtle Matlick, chairman, and Martha Wheeler Baxter.

The exhibit of miniatures will be confined to original works of living artists not before shown here and must be passed by a jury of selection before being accepted.

Satisfied Now Her Hometown Is Place Of Unusual Beauty

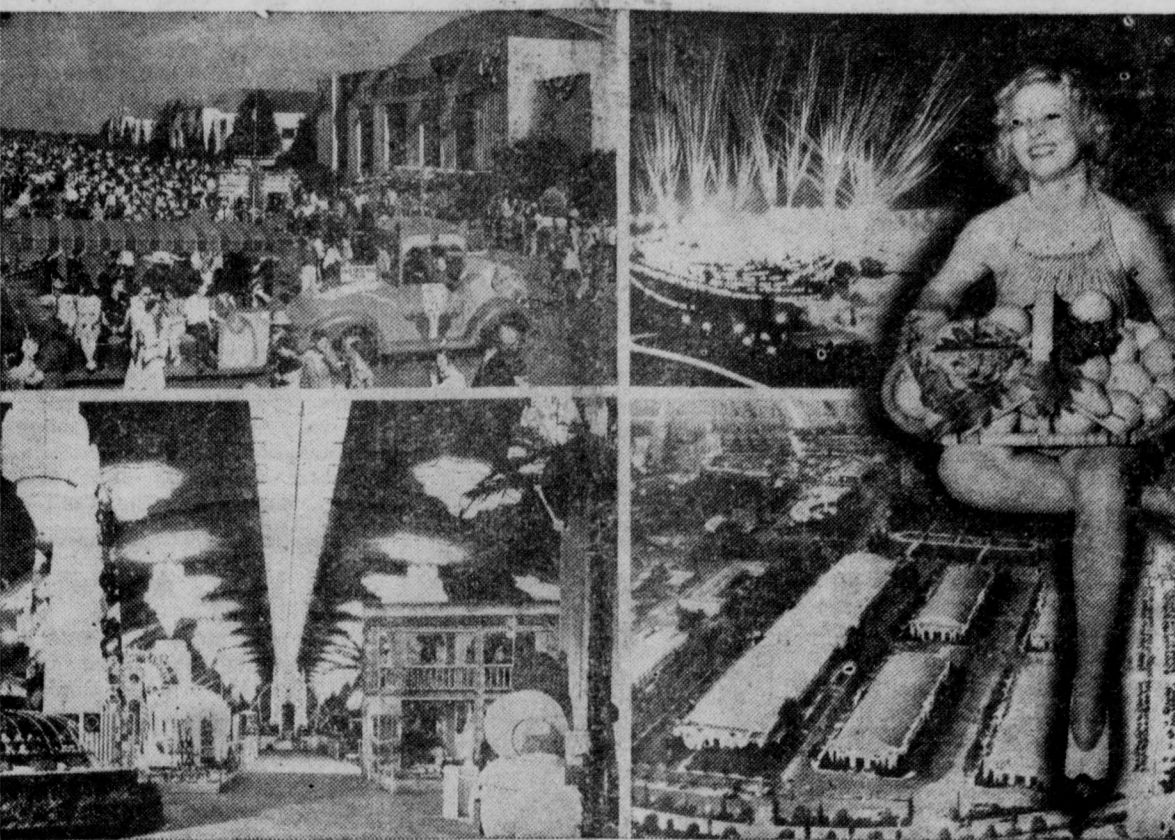

Declaring that Sierra Madre is one of the most beautiful spots in the United States, Mrs. Josephine E. Marr returned early this week from a three months tour of Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan and is now receiving friends at her home, 204 East Sierra Madre Blvd. In her travels she spent some time with friends and relatives in the town of her birth, Constantine, Mich., and surrounding communities, and visited with relatives in Indianapolis, Chicago, Louisville and Detroit, many of whom she has not seen for years.

Plant 15,000 Trout Behind Dam In Big Santa Anita Dam

Good news for local fishermen comes with the announcement from the Santa Anita Ranger station of the U. S. Forestry Service that 15,000 rainbow and Lock Laeven trout were planted in the Big Santa Anita Creek above the dam Wednesday afternoon.

Pat Harlan, district ranger says the Santa Anita is still in good stream, forming in spot pools three feet deep. No fishing will be permitted there until next year.

Democracy on Parade at County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 12 to 28

Woman Visits Her Hometown After An Absence Of 50 Years

After an absence of 50 years, Mrs. E. C. Foster of 65 South Baldwin avenue, recently revisited her hometown of Alexandria, S.D., and although she found it greatly changed, her old home was in good condition and quite familiar to her.

Mrs. Foster and her son Edward Foster, returned this week from a three-week trip throughout the West, during which they visited Zion and Bryce Canyons, Yellowstone National Park, the Black Hills, and many other scenic and historic spots in Idaho, Nebraska and South Dakota. Throughout their coverage of almost 6,000 miles they found excellent weather conditions prevailing, with the exception of South Dakota where crops have suffered great damage from lack of rain.

Building Of More Homes Is Under Way

Construction in Sierra Madre is being curtailed by the shortage in building materials, according to Building Inspector Wm. Lees. Activities for the month have been largely confined to repairing and re-roofing dwellings about town, with only a few new homes under construction.

Among new owners here are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullins of North Hollywood who are building a five room frame house at 161 East Montecito avenue, and Fred Lancot of Huntington Park, whose new five room stucco home will be located at 526 West Highland avenue.

R. D. Dodge, who recently returned from an extended stay in the east, will build five modern houses on Lowell avenue, and this week began construction of the first two. Later Mr. and Mrs. Dodge will build a new home in the Oaks. Also located on Lowell avenue is the new five room home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paonessa on which construction was begun this week.

Fred Hass has taken out a permit for a home at 50 Suffolk avenue, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis above West Grand View avenue, overlooking the San Gabriel Valley and the sea, is now well under way. Choosing a rolling hilltop for their home, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have selected a low rambling structure which will combine stucco and wood.

Vacationists Will Show Color Pictures Of Their Trips

Sierra Madre vacationists who have spent at least part of their time taking Kodachrome shots along the way will delight members of the Arts Guild with many fine pictorial studies Friday evening when the regular monthly meetings of the Guild will be resumed. Included will be "retours" by Dr. L. L. Krebs, Rollin C. Lewis and Bernard Wynne. Music will be provided by Jascha Gegna.

Entries For Big Soap Box Derby Grow

With 15 entries already registered, the soap box derby scheduled for September 16, promises to be the most exciting sports event of the year for young Sierra Madreans. Boys who have completed their racers are busy now with preliminary tryouts on East Grand View avenue where the race will be run.

Trophies will be donated by the Chamber of Commerce while other awards will be made by the Rikemans, Skeels, Sierra Madre Drug, Carl Hansen, Sierra Madre Hardware, and Byron Hopper.

Judges will be Gordon McMillan, police chief; Councilman Tom Schwartz and Building Inspector Bill Lees, while Mayor W. J. Schiltz and Dr. Lee Evans, Kiwanis president, will award the trophies. Dr. Evans, Gerald Smith and Sam McElfresh will act as starters and W. L. Burr and "Slim" Roberts, finish men.

The race will be divided into three classes: A, for boys 13 to 15; B, for boys 10 to 12; and sweepstakes.

There will be first, second and third awards in Class A and B finals; first and second sweepstake awards and first and second for originality of design and construction. Gold cups will await winners in each group, medals will be the reward for those who place second, while various other prizes will be given to third place contestants.

While the event is only 10 days distant, there is still time for additional boys to build their entries. Those who wish to do so should register at the Kiwanis Community Center where A. G. Stephens will be on hand to give suggestions and assistance.

Federal Union Plan Will Be Discussed At The Vine Sunday

Economic aspects of the plan for Federal Union, which sponsors declare formed the basic theory for much of the peace plan recently adopted by Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt at their history making mid-sea conference, will be discussed by Dr. Hoyt Rodney Gale at the Wistaria Vine supper salon Sunday evening.

Dr. Gale will conduct a general discussion of the plan and will invite participation of those attending. James Giridlian will conduct the usual short flower forum. Several new paintings have been added to the Beatrice Ward McIvor "one-man" show which is attracting wide interest.

Baldwin Treasures Go To L.A. Museum For 15 Years

Art treasures from the estate of the late Anita M. Baldwin which are valued in excess of $40,000 have been assigned to the Los Angeles Museum for a period of 15 years and will go on display within the next two weeks, according to information from Dr. Roland McKimney, director of the museum.

The collection includes tapestries and paintings, rare Chinese porcelains, ancient arms and bows, several pieces of which are believed to have been collected by E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, father of Mrs. Baldwin, and owner of the once vast Rancho Santa Anita of which Sierra Madre was a part, and have been kept at Mrs. Baldwin's home at Sierra Madre's border.

Cut In City Tax Rate Saves Increase In Total Levy Here

A reduction of 10.08 cents in the total tax rate to be paid by Sierra Madre's taxpayers was indicated this week as the Board of Supervisors adopted a county tax rate of $1.4627 which will mean a saving of 1.22 cents below last year's rate of $1.4749. This is the third successive reduction of the county tax rate. Without a 13.2 tax cut by the Sierra Madre Council the rate would have been greatly increased.

Established rate for this year will be $5.7744 as against $5.8752 for the fiscal year of 1940-41.

Only increase in the tax budget is in the school tax rate which is up 3.34 cents over last year. This is occasioned by an up in the Pasadena Junior College rate which has been established at .5074 as against .4667 for last year, and a slight increase to meet Sierra Madre school bond payments.

A breakdown in the tax rate is shown in the following comparative table of the new budget and that of last year:

	1941-42	1940-41
County	$1.4627	$1.4749
City	$1.99	$2.112
School	$2.1017	$2.0683
Flood	.22	.22

Free Fair Tickets For School Kids

School children throughout Southern California will again be admitted without charge to the Los Angeles County Fair which opens next Friday, September 12, according to an announcement from the management. Local boys and girls will find tickets available at the grammar school, while adult tickets may be purchased from John Fitzgerald, Chamber of Commerce secretary, at 38 N. Baldwin avenue.

Death Calls A Long Time Resident

Sierra Madre lost another prominent resident during the weekend when Henry M. Lannan, Sr., citrus grower, died Friday at the home of his son James, in Van Nuys.

Mr. Lannan, a true westerner, was born 76 years ago at Virginia City, Nevada, and spent many years ranching in Idaho before coming to California. For 32 years he divided his residence between Los Angeles, and the Lannan estate on East Grand View avenue, which was for many years the home of his father, P. H. Lannan, publisher of the Salt Lake Tribune. Prior to his retirement from business, Mr. Lannan was associated with revenue work, and was active in political circles in Los Angeles.

Requiem mass was recited Tuesday at Calvary Chapel, followed by entombment in Calvary Mausoleum.

Mr. Lannan is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Lannan; two daughters, Mrs. James Duff of San Marino, and Mrs. Margaret de Heurtaumont of East Grand View avenue; two sons, James and Henry M. Jr., both of Van Nuys, and four grandchildren, Henry M. III, Françoise de Heurtaumont, and Patricia and Margaret Duff.

Another New Store Will Be Opened Here On Saturday

Saturday has been chosen for the opening of the Sierra Madre unit of the Cornet 5-10 and 25-cent store chain, which will be located in the Sierra Madre Hotel building.

Joe Cornet, owner and general manager of the chain, began development of his stores in 1922 when he opened the first unit at Covina. Since then the organization has expanded until now there are more than 50 Cornet stores in operation in six western states.

The building has been remodeled and redecorated to accommodate the complete stock of merchandise. All help will be hired locally, with the probable exception of the manager, who has not been named as yet.

On Saturday the store will be open until 8:30 to afford ample time for townspeople to inspect the merchandise and meet the staff. Free balloons will be given to all children on that day.

Mrs Jensen To Ask Board For Parole

Plea Of Former City Employee Will Be Heard Before September 9

Renewing her efforts to regain her freedom, Mrs. Florence D. Jensen, former Sierra Madre deputy clerk now serving a five year sentence at the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi for misappropriation of water department funds, will appear before the prison board of trustees for parole hearing next week.

The board will convene at Tehachapi September 6 and will be in session until September 9. During this time Mrs. Jensen will be given an opportunity to present her petition. She will have ample time to make her plea, and because her conduct, and adjustments to prison restrictions have been far above average, may be recommended for leniency. However there is no certainty now that she will be given immediate parole.

Should the board grant Mrs. Jensen's petition, a tentative date for her release will be set, before which time an official from the Tehachapi institution will visit her home and family to ascertain whether conditions will be favorable for her. If they are not she will be held until satisfactory adjustments have been made.

Earlier in the year, Mrs. Jensen made a formal plea for commutation of sentence but received

Pretty Preview

IMPRESSED by the beauty of San Fernando's newly restored Mission church edifice is lovely Mary Louise Moreno, assistant Chamber of Commerce secretary and native daughter. She is pictured above in typical early California costume on preview tour of edifice to be re-dedicated at all-day ceremony and Fiesta on Mission grounds in San Fernando, September 7.

Restored with painstaking exactness to all its former glory as the most elaborate church edifice in the entire California Mission chain, San Fernando's Mission church will be re-dedicated during a special mass at 10 a.m., September 7, which will open a day-long celebration of the historical event. The date also marks the 144th anniversary of the founding of the Mission here.

Over 3000 persons from Southland communities are expected to throng the old Mission grounds for the event which will include a monster outdoor dinner after the morning services, an afternoon Fiesta program, and a dedication service in the historic church later in the day.

Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, archbishop of the Los Angeles archdiocese, will personally read the solemn re-dedication rites which will mark the first services to be held in the building since 1874 when it was condemned as unsafe for worship after falling into decay.

DOVE HUNTERS READY FOR NEARBY FIELDS

Hunters who shoulder their rifles and set out to bag enough birds for a dove pie are advised by the U.S. Forest Service that the limit for any day's hunting is 15 while the weekly limit is 30. However this does not mean that a hunter may do two days hunting in one day, as the law states that no one may take more than 15 doves on any day.

The season opened Monday in all parts of California except the Imperial Valley, where it always opens later in the autumn.

IT'S OUR BUSINESS

If the U.S. Senate approves the plan of its finance committee, half again as many Californians will write checks to the income tax collector on March 1st, as evaded before.

Exemptions on all incomes will be reduced from $2000 for married persons to $1500; and from $800 for single persons to $750. And that, say the treasury experts, will increase by about seven million the number of persons filing income tax returns with the federal government.

However, the new taxpayers will account for only about 49 million dollars of the expected 303 million dollar income tax. For there aren't enough citizens in the category to make much more than a splash in the bucket. Most of the huge amount will come from bigger taxpayers whose lowered exemptions will nick them for a few dollars more.

The new levy on incomes sounds enormous. But it will not go very far toward filling out the $3,539,700,000 requirement of the immense new tax bill, conceived to be necessary for defense. Sacrifices are going to be needed; corners will have to be cut. With that the average citizen has no quarrel in these times of emergency.

But the average citizen does want to know what corners the government itself proposes to cut and which of the many unnecessary governmental frills will be eliminated and when. The treasury reports it is still spending 52 millions a day while collecting only 13 millions. The nation is now billions in the red.

If government is everybody's responsibility, then financing it in sound and economical fashion is everybody's business. Seven million new income taxpayers are going to be asking about that very shortly now.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

WILL the teaching of religion save the Nation? And we agree with the questioner when he himself answers with a sturdy "Far from it!" But before we go on let's make ourself clear. Question and answer were in a sort of old-fashioned broadsheet, a two-page tabloid, called Kingdom News, which someone left at our door while we were gone—a publication advertising recent works by Judge Rutherford. What we mean is that we don't think that this present sort of religious teaching will save the Nation. For, listen—here is what it says: "There are more than 200 religions practiced in America... many... under the direct control of demons... in fact, all religion is based upon the worship of demons..." Say, brother, right in our street are Bethany Church, which is All-Denominational so to speak, and the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, and the shrine of our Blessed St. Rita. Be these the like ye're insulting? Hold us, someone!

AS for that, we're informed by the same publication that "the Lord is now (the italics are ours) judging the nations"—as if he'd ever ceased from doing so—"separating the sheep from the goats," and that "at the end of that judgment every person will be found either in the sheep class or in the goat class." Ah me! And is there no room then for that other day of judgment when the wolf shall dwell with the lamb—and so on, as we used to be taught in Sunday-school?—and the faithful still are being taught, we feel assured, here in Sierra Madre. So what! Well, the same publication quotes that bit from the Ninth Psalm about how "the wicked shall be turned into hell." Why not quote from that same Psalm how "The Lord will be a refuge for the oppressed," how "he forgetteth not the cry of the humble?"

AND still, just what is this religion that all sorts of people are talking about so much today—as of something unexplored, something to be tested. A question we often ask ourselves—when, say, we watch the birds outside our window: sparrows, finches, wrens, silvery nuthatches, woodpeckers (two kinds), the towhees and jays and doves. Human—as human as we are—they seem to us. And hence, likewise to be divided—are they?—into sheep and goats? God forbid! Again, some times, we speculate about such things as we watch the tall, tall treetsops swaying gently against the sky—like so many Davids dancing before the Ark—maybe of another Covenant—meant for us, sheep and goats alike. It was written that Christ died to save sinners.

SO, here we say, Go away, Fear! Go to, you prophets of Fear! True religion means the abolishment of hell—doing your best to make the Kingdom come here on earth as it is in heaven. How? Some say one thing, some say another. As, for example, that goodly host who follow the teaching of those three little figures—"Hear no evil, See no evil, Speak no evil." Of Chinese origin. And the wisdom of the Chinese, especially in the realm of ethics, is rated very high. But so also is their reputation for ironic humor—as high even as their art. So it appears in the example of the Three Wise Monkeys—the "wisdom" shown is the wisdom of monkeys, not of men. What, then, is the wisdom of men? To be forever alert to evil—just as our doctors are to disease; to get rid of human germs, such as now flourish in the Nazi plague, just as our doctors exterminated, for example, the death-dealing mosquitoes of Panama.

WHAT then? War? Sure! Absolutely! By us? Who else! Not that we needed his persuasion—but we've just been reading Cheradame's book, "Defense of the Americas." You'll find it in our excellent Sierra Madre Public Library. The problem that faces America, he says, is not that we may be forced to take part in the European war but that we do not want to. It is to know whether, after Europe, the Americas will in turn be overcome. Thus Cheradame, a Frenchman, now a fugitive from France, who was praised by Theodore Roosevelt shortly before the latter's death as the man who had "literally done more than any other man in the world to make the allied nations understand where the really vital danger from Germany lay." Read him, if you still have doubts; read him anyway. Cheradame has eyes, and ears; he has a voice.

AND so, back to that old question about religion. Hoping to do our own part against

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

ATTIC STATIC

Who hasn't climbed those creaky stairs and entered that mysterious room, where family relics congregate, to share alike, a common doom? In stuffy darkness all about, lie countless trappings, long passe; on yonder hooks, two uniforms, a faded blue, a tattered gray. The flashlight's glow reveals a trunk, within, a dainty wedding dress, who could have been the lucky bride? The answer, one can only guess. A box of toys, quite cold and still, tin soldiers, drum and tarnished horn; what joy they brought some youthful heart on that forgotten Christmas morn. A pile of books, old shoes and hats, a music box long choked with dust; and barrels crammed with bric-a-brac, a dangling sword, now sheathed in rust. What ghosts appear in attic rooms, reminding all who came to pry, that family treasures bow to time, but memories, just never die.

these—what we believe to be, so help us God!—poisons now being injected at this crucial hour into the veins of our Uncle Sam. The idea, first, that any of us are damned unless we belong to this or that special cult. "How God," said St. Theresa, "must have loved a variety of people—since He'd made so many!" And the idea, second, yet even more dangerous maybe than the first, that all we'll need to do to save America is—to pray. Not even Jesus Christ our Lord, it seems, could save the world by prayer alone. So, how about you—and all of us?—sheep, goats—or, more likely, something of each at one time or another in every one of us? ("It is He that hath made us.") Are we ready?

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

People are thinking a lot lately about crime and punishment. About the crime of murderous aggression among nations and the peace.

They are thinking of the "Duchess" Spinnelli, who never handled a gun herself, waiting to die for justice's sake. She directed bomb killings, and though a jury found her guilty and a judge sentenced her to death, public opinion has it she will never see the apple-green gas chamber at San Quentin.

They are thinking of dashing Captain John Holmes, the San Mateo socialite who blinded himself with a bullet from the same gun with which he killed his rival for a lady's affections. They are betting that Holmes will serve no more than a year of his ten-year prison sentence.

Crime, like the poor, is with us to stay, but more than ever it is hard to deal with for justice is possibly the most inconstant commodity of the day. People think differently about it, and what passes for justice in one place isn't remotely recognized in another.

The Roosevelt-Churchill declaration that no country's boundaries should be changed after the war without approval of the people involved, and that every nation should determine its own form of government, brought highest praise from many sources as a just, humanitarian pronouncement. But Fascist Italy saw in it only "an aggressive, avicious spirit which must fail at birth." Nazi Germany saw, even less, and Propaganda Minister Goebbels told his people to "spit on it—and return to their work until humanity is freed from this scourge of God."

Crime and punishment have had their day in court of late, being hotly debated by the best minds in penal affairs from all over America, meeting in conference at San Francisco. But even prison wardens, whose job it is to know the men who create crime and to know how to cope with them, don't agree on justice, whether it works or not, and how.

On the subject of punishment: "I don't go for this so-called 'reform' stuff," said Roy Best, Colorado State penitentiary warden. "We're much too soft. Corporal punishment should be used when other means fail, for it has a good psychological effect. The men fear it." Said Warden Clint Duffy of San Quentin: "Confinement is punishment. From there on it's our problem to rehabilitate. No corporal punishment is necessary."

Among the theories on crime, punishment and resistance to assault is Judo, the philosophy of defense by non-aggression. It is a major study of every guard at California's new wall-less prison at Chino, where the guards are unarmed and guns are locked up. It will be watched with interest, for so far nobody has ever made it work on a big scale but Mahatma Gandhi.

MARINES HERE FOR LABOR DAY WEEKEND

Corporals Don Jackson and Tony Telear, of the San Diego Marine Base, visited over the weekend with Corporal Jackson's mother, Mrs. E. L. Jackson of 55 Auburn.

SEE WHERE

A man who doesn't marry is 40 per cent more likely to die before 65 and 9 times more susceptible to mental disease than if he were someone's husband, says Ruth Arrel in a magazine article quoting life insurance statisticians. A woman who says single is 21 per cent more likely to die before 65 and 30 per cent more likely to meet with a fatal accident than her married sister.

With planes under way for ferrying American war planes across the South Atlantic to Africa and on to the Middle East, another gateway is open through which American military strength can strike against the advance of Nazi armies—should they be victorious in southern Russia. In the fast-spreading theatre of conflict in World War II, the Middle East and Iran have been brought near the dangerous firing line. Iran supplies most of the oil for Britain's land, sea and air forces in the Middle East. Control of Iran will mean control of the sea route through the Persian Gulf, today the safest of all Britain's supply lines. Iran lies between the Russian Army and the Middle East Army in Iraq. For all these reasons, control of Iran is of major strategic importance to Britain and Russia. The ferrying of American war planes to the Middle East shows America's determination to insure its control by anti-Axis powers.

At least 85 per cent of 6494 single-vehicle accidents involving injury or death in California during 1940 were avoidable, according to Department of Motor Vehicle statistics, and only 15 per cent of these accidents, in which automobiles hit obstructions, skidded or met with some other mishap, were caused by factors beyond the driver's control. In all, California had 41,290 accidents in 1940 involving injury or death, and 34,796 of them included two or more vehicles.

Let all take heart! Even in this year of colossal expenditures, Congress is managing to save money. Dividends for the hard-pressed taxpayer have come from the work of the House and Senate committees investigating defense contracts. These committees have finished unmasking many costly mistakes which the War Department promises to avoid in the future. Millions were needlessly wasted through cost-plus, fixed-fee contracts and failure to use land grant freight rates. Nepotism, too, played its part. We trust War Dept. officials endorse the words of an investigating committee report, "The lessons taught at such expense have been well learned."

Though the State has been setting up payroll and employment records only to knock them down again, California has still another figure to boast of this week—an increase in population, according to official estimates, amounting to more than half a million since the 1940 Census. Come defense boom, or depression lull, the cry is still, "California, here we come!"

It's a far cry from the Depression 'Thirties when youth walked the streets of American cities in search of a job, and often in vain. Today it's Opportunity that is going in search of the worker with capable hands and brain. Vocational training classes in the past year have equipped hundreds of thousands of apprentices with technical skills of enduring value. By next April, the Department of Labor estimates 1,409,000 additional workers will be required to man the benches in the nation's industrial plants. Now, as seldom before, Opportunity is abroad in the land, in eager quest of able, conscientious hands.

The conquered people of Europe are beginning to strain more boldly and recklessly against the Prussian Yoke around their neck. From Norway and the Balkans, from France and Belgium, there has come an increasing tide of reports, from both Axis and anti-Axis sources, of open opposition and sabotage against the German occupation of those lands. Marshal Petain's admission of this opposition in his latest speech may give a clue to German demands for increased control over France—the necessity for the Nazis to break the mounting resistance against them. Certainly Europe's conquered people have taken heart at the momentous meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill further proof that the destruction of Nazi sovereignty is as good as written in the book of history. As for the people of Germany themselves, the past

YOUR HOME AND MIND

BY ANNE WILSON

Is your living room suffering from "polka-dot lighting?"

This is the effect one gets from using one lamp in surrounding darkness. The alternate light and dark pattern detracts from the room's attractiveness, hiding the beauty of drapes, furniture and other furnishings. It is also very hard on the eyes, for when you are reading the harsh contrast between surrounding darkness and brightness causes severe contractions of the pupils, tiring and straining them.

To avoid polka-dot lighting, have plenty of light throughout the entire room whenever you are using your eyes to read the newspaper, book or a magazine; sew, play cards.

In addition to the table or floor lamp providing light for your particular task, have other lamps on the room so that all parts of it are illuminated. Lamps with diffusing bowls which throw some of the light upward are especially good for room-wide lighting.

Modern scientific discoveries in the relation of good sight to good light emphasize the need for adequate light of the proper kind in order to prevent eyestrain. Avoidance of contrast between light and darkness is important, eyesight specialists tell us; and it is fine that we can get away from this danger so easily—merely by turning on another lamp or two. Homemakers are paying more and more attention to lighting, for in their care are their family's most precious possession—their eyes.

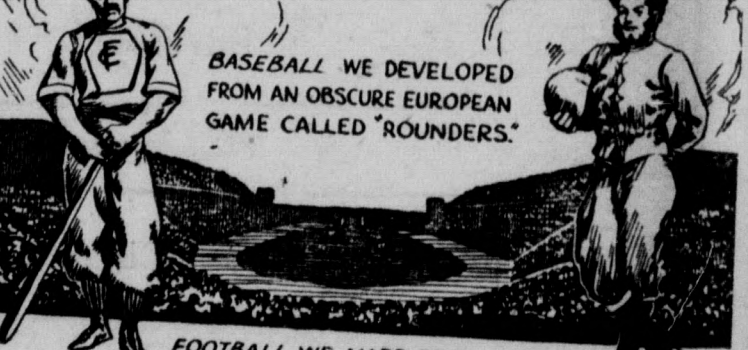

a leaky boat and refusing to repair the leak. But now a House Committee has given definite assurance maximum wage proposals will be considered in connection with the price and rationing bill in the near future. The nation's choice during this critical emergency is, of course, not between regulation and non-regulation, but between regulation and runaway inflation. The lesser of the two evils is not in dispute.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

While we sit, idly waiting for the birth of an idea... our editor says ideas shouldn't come so hard... we wonder at the woman we see across the street wearing furs on such a lovely warm day. The charm of her costume is somewhat marred by the thought that underneath she must be sweltering.

The pepper tree outside our window is growing quite rapidly. How long will it be before someone cuts it down as a nuisance? Lester Layton tells us we should write something about the woman in town who cut down her trees. "What woman?" we ask. "I can't remember her name," says he. Our next question naturally is, "What trees?" And the answer we get is, "Both of 'em." So...

Why is it that men have given themselves the privilege of looking at a girl and remarking that they do not find her pleasing to the eyes... Yet should a woman look at another and make the same surmise, the men, with an amused or scornful look, very softly say, "Now dear, don't be catty."

Another true story... An electrical engineer, changing jobs, was supposed to be at his new place of employment within three days time. Train connections were bad and at one jerk water town the train was held over for several hours, delaying the man in reaching his destination. So he sent a telegram to his firm which read, "Delayed because of hold-over. Will arrive tomorrow if able." His subsequent arrival at the office was greeted with broad grins, and a staggering number of solicitous questions as to his general health. There were also several awed comments on his nerve and honesty. When the poor chap remained puzzled, his fellow workers led him to a wall... there, in a conspicuous place was his framed telegram... "Delayed because of hang-over. Will arrive tomorrow if able."

To believe or not to believe is the question when people tell us about waking up at night and finding a possum curled up on the foot of the bed. But even we would choose a lonesome possum to a lonesome pole-cat.

There is no danger of an exodus of young Sierra Madre girls and matrons... to say nothing of men and boys... to the hotter clime of Redlands. According to a recent news article, that worthy town has put a ban on "indecent summer clothes"... the word "indecent" means anything showing bare hide below the neck and above the knees. The penalty for appearing in such a costume is a vacation in the city's cooler which at that would be more comfortable than the 110 degree temperature of the streets. We fear that the women of our town would be spending a considerable number of hours in the so called "coolers." (We are also wondering just who makes the distinction as to what clothes are decent or indecent... and why.)

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

To those who do not know, it might appear as tho' we were about to enter the winter season and that the fire hazard was lessened. Contrary to this idea, we are now entering the most dangerous time of year. A little rain will not do much good. Not until we have had sufficient rain to cause the new growth, will the very hazardous condition be eliminated. Weeds and brush are completely dry at this season of the year. This means that we can't forget of the danger of fire from dropping lighted cigarettes and such.

Members of the new organized Junior Chamber of Commerce are showing an interest in fire prevention. It is hoped that this will have some influence in preventing a repetition of what occurred last fall when several dry palm trees were deliberately set on fire as a Halloween prank. We urge the youth to consider what can happen from a spreading fire.

The value of the new men who have offered their services to the fire department can only be realized by those who watch them work and see the interest they are displaying. All of the young men who are available at practically all hours of the day, they are an invaluable asset to the city. The more men that are acquainted with the workings of the equipment the more certain we are of having an adequate force to battle a fire when it comes.

The recent fire must have reminded our officers that we may have a fire sometime where ladders may be needed. The drill last Friday for the boys was with ladders and as usual, the Masonic Temple was chosen for the work. Much time was consumed and not without the expected wisecracks and arguments as to how the ladders should be placed against a building.

It was a lot of fun 20 years ago to answer a night call, but now Louie Karger says that it is nice to roll over on "der odder side and leaf der young fellows do der work." Much to the surprise of us all, Louie did not appear at the fire Sunday morning. He was missed.

With much regret, Frank Lovell's resignation from the fire department was accepted last Friday. As he will now be in San Diego permanently, he will be unable to retain his membership.

Such men as Eber Thomas, Joe Burns, Bill Estes, Joe Hutak and Harold Spears should assure us of the continuation of the effi-

Huge Crowd Of Holiday Vacationists Visit Nearby Trails And Resorts Over Labor Day Weekend

Setting a record for holiday safety in the San Gabriel mountains, well over 22 thousand visitors vacationed in the area between Fish Canyon and Chilao, right back of Sierra Madre, during the weekend, but no forest or brush fires were reported in the region.

From Saturday noon until Monday night 909 cars carrying 3,109 people were registered at the Santa Anita U. S. Forest Service station for entry to the Big Santa Anita Canyon and 288 cars with 844 occupants entered Fish Canyon, while 18,264 outdoor devotees enjoyed a last vacation fling in the Charlton Flats-Chilao area where 4,591 cars were registered.

Evidently influenced by some of the cleanup in the mountains directly back of Sierra Madre, 122 hikers traveled the Mt. Wilson trail.

Only forest fire in the entire foothill area was at City Creek Canyon in the San Bernardino Mountains where a fire started by a child playing with matches broke out Saturday and burned over 2500 acres of valuable watershed before it was brought under control at 6 a.m. Sunday morning. J. S. Collins, forest ranger from the Santa Anita district was sent to the fire Saturday night when 2 caterpillar tractors and 15 trucks were also dispatched from the Arcadia warehouse.

New Stars In 1941 Edition Of Famed Ice Follies

All new for '42 is the slogan of the Ice Follies which returns to the Pan-Pacific Arena after a year's absence. The new Ice Follies of 1942 will have its world premiere this (Thursday) evening, at the Beverly blvd. ice rink.

Last year's popular revue boasted a cast of 65. This season's edition has a cast of 85, the largest group of ice skaters ever assembled for a pro figure skating carnival. There are a number of new stars in addition to the ever-popular favorites. Mae Ross, cute blonde starlet is a new headliner. Pretty Mae calls Hollywood home. Then there are the Thomas Twins, Mary and Jane, from San Jose.

But Bess Ehrhardt, brunet beauty; Evelyn Chandler, world's greatest feminine skater still top the Ice Follies along with Roy Shipstad, Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson, Frick and Frack, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack, Heinie Brock, McKellen brothers, the Galbraith brothers, Osborne Colson, Francis Claudet, Rudy and Bobby Maxson, Bruce Mapes, and the 36 members of the famous Ice Follies.

The best portion of a good man's life—his little nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.—Wordsworth.

Extend Enrollment For CCC Camps

Under a policy recently authorized, enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps will be conducted on a continuous basis in the future. This plan replaces the usual quarterly enrollment periods. Young men of good character between the ages of 17 and 23 who are American citizens, single and in need of employment and vocational training, may make application at the office of the CCC Selecting Agency, 701 East Jefferson Blvd., Los Angeles.

As It Appears To me

September...all the magic of the seasons crowded into one short word... crispness in the early morning, bright sparkling atmosphere, and through the daytime a lazy warmth which makes September something special in this south country.

Today, Labor Day, we sit here at our typewriter trying to appear energetic. The town seems particularly drowsy, all but a few of the downtowners away in the mountains, at the beach or just relaxing somewhere.

For Judge Tom Neale today meant the beginning of dove season, Alta Loma...wide fields with the hope of good shooting; for Joe Swanson it probably means deep sea fishing and for Gordon McMillan the rushing trout streams above Bishop.

Even the police department seems to be affected by the general lassitude of the weekend... the daily log being a series of off duty-on duty entries interspersed with notations about sick, strayed or abandoned pets.

Sometimes when we read the report, we wonder how the men on duty can be expected to respond immediately to emergency calls...which come often from many of us realize...when they are constantly called upon to assume the duties of humane officers. A situation which should be considered and improved.

Something we specially liked during the weekend... being a spectator at the Saturday night celebration of the Nisei Festival in Los Angeles. Sam Hohri, formerly employed here at the NEWS showing us the plans for the new Japanese section, a fine blending of traditional Japanese and modern architecture which should make the district one of the southland showplaces. However we are hoping for a more dignified name for the section than the chosen "Lil' Tokio," which to our mind lacks dignity.

These young Japanese had arranged an exhibit of ceramics, paintings, photography and sculpture which would rate a place in any museum. Annual highlight of the affair are the native dances presented on the street by hundreds of young girls wearing gay kimonos. This is a representation of the folk life of Japan and is strictly outside the boundaries of political thought. Therefore there should be no conflict in the finds of those who attend purely for the cultural and folk interest.

Hope some of you have seen he exhibits at the National Florists show... also that your calendar is marked for next Sunday's rededication of the San Fernando Mission which promises to be colorful and impressive.

It seems as though embarrassments never come singly, imagine our confusion last week when we failed to recognize Don Jackson in his U.S. Marine uniform. No doubt because his short period of training has brought a new maturity. Don tells us that the Marines are not only well fed, but have a daily menu which is far ahead of that of the average American, and he looks it. (This by the way of accounting for our lack of recognition). Hank Shippey and Joe Hinojos also home for the weekend, looking fit. Evidently a year's training in one of the defense forces is benefitting many of our boys.

—Margaret Eliason.

New Scenic Highway Will Cut Distance To Popular Resorts

When the Angeles Crest Highway is completed (formal opening set for Sept. 12) it will offer a saving in distance from Los Angeles city hall to Big Pine Recreation Park of 27.2 miles over the shortest present route, according to the State Highway Department.

Mileage figures on this forest conservation and state recreational highway indicate an eventual distance of 66.87 miles from the city hall to Big Pine. This includes an estimate of 14 miles from the approximate end of current construction at Islip Saddle to Big Pine, which is obtained from office location and field reconnaissance surveys. The distance from Los Angeles city hall to the park by the way of San Bernardino is 94.6 miles.

Time and travel distance between the two routes will be dissimilar, since the Angeles Crest Highway is two-lane and essentially a recreational route across the Sierra Madre mountain range and the present route via San Bernardino extends for the most part over wide major highways. Angeles Crest will provide an alternate route to Big Pine, Wrightwood, the desert and Cajon Pass, and will offer a scenic loop trip that may be followed either via San Bernardino or via Palmdale and Mint Canyon for the outgoing or return drive.

Paintings To Bring Back Old Chinatown
At Vine Gardens

Adding to the widely diversified interests which are promised at the Wistaria Vine Gardens for the Altadena-Sierra Madre Chinese relief benefit, scheduled for September 20, will be the exhibit of Old Chinatown sketches by Mrs. Hazel Clark.

Corners of Old Chinatown which were a traditional part of Los Angeles through generations, but became only historical memories when the district was improved to make way for the new Union Station, will be especially pleasing, and to add interest there will also be sketches of spots in Vancouver. Mrs. Clark is a member of the Women Painters of the West and a resident of Altadena. The exhibit, which will hang in the Little Gallery at the Vine through September, has been arranged by Helen Hawley Norozny, local artist.

Kiwanians Urged To Remember Pledge
To Democracy

Application of the Kiwanis ideal in the present chaotic and turbulent times was urged upon all Kiwanians by Harry Lane of San Gabriel, past president of the California-Nevada district, when he appeared as guest speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Wistaria Vine, Tuesday.

"Safeguard Democracy by Individual Service" is the Kiwanis motto for the 1941-42 season, and around it Mr. Lane built much of his talk. He stressed particularly administrative objectives of Kiwanis, "which include a program to strengthen our democratic principles, meet the present emergency and maintain the values we seek to defend, through continuation of all youth services."

Attention Bicycle
Fans-- Here's A Real
Sunday Outing

Attention, bicycling fans. Everyone interested in a day of fun and exercise is invited to be on the corner of Santa Anita avenue and Huntington drive at 9 a.m. Sunday, September 7, for a bicycle trip to San Dimas Park. The trip is 15 miles each way and the party should arrive home around 4 p.m. Bicycles are available nearby for those who do not own one.

Each member of the party is required to bring his own lunch. A car will follow the group to carry coats, lunches, etc., and to pick up the weary and their bicycles. A one-way trip can be arranged from those wishing to do only 15 miles.

Enthusiasts from Los Angeles and members of the American Youth Hostels are going on the trip. Sierra Madreans are invited to call Roy Davidson at Atwater 7-1602 or Mrs. Francis Dane at Custer 5-4451.

MRS. JENSEN TO ASK BOARD
FOR PAROLE

little encouragement, as the decision of the advisory pardon board was to the effect that only after the expiration date of her five year aggregated term, March 1, 1944, would her application be in order. A pardon would also depend upon a proper conduct record and the establishment of complete rehabilitation. Though the decision of this board is not necessarily final, no indication has been given that it will be set aside.

An indeterminate sentence was imposed upon Mrs. Jensen by Judge Frank G. Swain last August when she pleaded guilty in Superior court to two counts of embezzling public funds and falsification of public records.

In February, her term was fixed at five years with probable release for good behavior at the end of three years seven months. This sentence was considered unusually lenient because the embezzlement of public funds is considered the most serious civil offense.

Total amount taken from the water department was $2,987.69, for which the city sustained a loss of $1,086.26, because her bond was insufficient to cover the entire amount.

In the event that she is released, she will probably be paroled to someone who is not a member of her family. Whether or not she will reestablish her residence in Sierra Madre is problematical.

Members of the prison board of trustees sitting on Mrs. Jensen's case are Mrs. Rose Wallace of Alhambra, chairman; Mrs. Mary B. King of Santa Ana, vice chairman; Grace E. Barneberg of San Luis Obispo; Thora Merchant of San Francisco, and M. G. Brittan of Bakersfield.

The colored All-Stars will be here Friday evening at 7:30 to play the Sierra Madre All-Stars on the home diamond. This game will be filled with laughs for these boys always give the fans a good time as well as a good game.

Kiggins will pitch for Sierra Madre and Earl LaLone will catch. Playing in the field will be R. LaLone, 1b; D. Miller, 2b; S. Davis, 3b; J. Grippi, ss; H. Lacy, lf; D. Davis, cf; and R. Woods, rf.
